Yours faithfully

Once again, congratulations and good luck with your English!

I am afraid the University of Cambridge does not allow us to post certificates for security reasons. If you are unable to collect the certificate yourself, a friend or relative may do so as long as they have an accompanying letter signed by you and their identity card. I am sorry for any inconvenience this might cause.

Please remember to bring the enclosed printout with you as the information on it will help us to find your certificate more quickly.

VERY IMPORTANT:

Please note that if you were entered by a school, your teacher may have already collected your certificate for you so check with her first to avoid a wasted journey. This document can be used for purposes of credit for future travel.

10.00 - 13.00 and 14.00 - 18.00 Monday to Friday

Congratulations! You've passed your English exam! I am sending you the computer printout of your result which may be used as a provisional certificate until the official one arrives towards the middle of October. Then you may collect it from the British Council reception desk only with your result letter and the candidate number at the following times:
